

Measurement framework to assess institutional mechanisms for gender equality

Apžvalga

Description

The project aims to contribute to more effective and sustainable design and implementation of gender mainstreaming strategies and initiatives. It also seeks to improve the technical capacity of institutional mechanisms to foster real progress in gender equality across the EU. It will therefore improve monitoring tools and collect up-to-date information on gender equality and mainstreaming at EU and Member State level.

In 2021, the study will produce a measurement framework to assess the capacity of institutional mechanisms to advance gender equality through gender mainstreaming and update EIGE's Gender Mainstreaming Platform accordingly.
