

White Ribbon Campaign

Franz Thönnnes

Germany,

Member of the German Parliament / Former Parliamentary State Secretary / Deputy Chair of the Committee on Foreign Affairs

The European Commission has made the fight against violence against women the main issue for this year. This is important because, unfortunately, every third woman in Europe has already been a victim of sexual violence in her life and this topic does not receive the attention it should deserve. In order to bring it more into public, I participate as an ambassador to the "white ribbon campaign". Because violence against women affects us all.
