
The Silent Presence: Asian Female Domestic Workers and Cyprus in the New Europe

Anthropological study based on field work of attitudes and perceptions of the gendered roles of Cypriot employers and female Asian domestic workers. Women are routinely objectified as symbols and markers of status by employers.. Domestic work, care for children and the elderly which were traditionally areas of undeclared female paid and unpaid work, has partly shifted from local women to migrant women.

Format: word file

Metadata

TYPE: Study / Survey

CREATOR/AUTHOR: Sainsbury, Sondra

PUBLISHER: Binghamton University

LANGUAGE: English

COVERAGE: Cyprus

SECTOR: Employment

FORMAT: Other - text

KEYWORDS: family worker, gender roles, homework, irregular and/or precarious employment