

Meetme “soolise võrdõiguslikkuse edendamise” vahehindamine

Ministry of Social Affairs has commissioned a study to assess how well the ESF's priority axis "Good-quality and long working life" programme of "Promoting gender equality" for the period of 2008-2012 has achieved its goals. The study concludes that the measure has been appropriate, reasonably effective, reasonably efficient and sustainable. However, there is room for improvement, especially in the field of work-related gender equality which should be even more in the focus of the activities.
