

The Equality Strategy - Building a Fairer Britain: Progress Report

The report sets out progress made between 2010 and 2012 in the five priority areas of the Equality Strategy: 'early years, education and social mobility', 'a flexible labour market', 'opening up public services and empowering individuals and communities', 'changing culture and attitudes' and 'leading by example through transparency'. It also sets out plans for the future, such as a focus on advancing equality of opportunities and equal treatment on the most disadvantaged or left behind in society.
