

Fundación Mashumano (Foundation More Human)

Created in 2003 with the name Mujer, Empleo y Familia (Women, Employment and Family), it changed its name in 2013 fixing broader objectives. The stated main aim is to foster a more human society through social and business change. Among the main objectives are to influence institutions who design and implement family policies, facilitate that people can balance their working and family lives, and contribute to the construction of a society without gender inequalities.
