

Sexism at work

Part 2. Test yourself

The purpose of this tool is to help you understand how sexism and sexual harassment impact your organisation and what action you can take to create cultural change. You will find advice on next steps in the 'Act' section of this handbook.

Answer 'yes' or 'no' to each question. The final total of 'yes' and 'no' answers will enable you to make a self-assessment.

To be completed by management and leadership

Ne

Taip

Do you know and understand the EU legislation, Staff Regulations and policy around sexual and psychological harassment?

 Ne Taip

Have you ensured your team know and understand the EU legislation, Staff Regulations and policy around sexual and psychological harassment?

 Ne Taip

Are you clear about the role of management in establishing a working environment free from sexism and sexual harassment?

 Ne Taip

Do you understand sexism and what kind of behaviour or organisational practices could be deemed sexist?

 Ne Taip

Have you ensured your team understand sexism and what kind of behaviour or organisational practices could be deemed sexist?

 Ne Taip

Has your team been surveyed on their perceptions and experiences of sexism and sexual harassment in your organisation?

 Ne Taip

Have you and your team taken unconscious bias training? Ne Tai

Have you adjusted your internal and external communication to remove gender stereotypes? Ne Tai

Do you try to maintain gender balance when allocating tasks and responsibilities on your team, as well as reclassification recommendations? Ne Tai

Do you apply your unconscious bias training related to gender when you are involved in recruitment processes, giving feedback or in performance appraisals? Ne Tai

Have you and your team received training to self-advocate (that is for employees to stand up for themselves and deal with situations constructively as they arise) if they face sexism? Ne Tai

Has your team received bystander training to help them act when they witness inappropriate behaviour? Ne Tai

Do you help ensure complaints of sexual harassment are handled quickly, confidentially and consistently, regardless of the hierarchical level of the people involved? Ne Tai

Have confidential counsellors received proper training on how to support victims? Ne Tai

Do you know how to contact your human resources representative in the event of a problem? Ne Tai

To be completed by staff

Ne Tai

Do you know and understand the EU legislation, Staff Regulations and policy around sexual and psychological harassment? Ne Tai

Do you understand sexism and what kind of behaviour or organisational practices could be deemed sexist?

Ne Tai

Have you been trained in how to deal with sexism, either as a target or to support someone else?

Ne Tai

Are you aware when jokes and behaviour are sexist in tone and content?

Ne Tai

Do you know how to shut down sexist jokes and behaviour?

Ne Tai

Have you personally experienced sexism in your organisation?

Ne Tai

If you experienced sexism in the workplace, did you self-advocate?

Ne Tai

Have you personally experienced sexual harassment in your organisation?

Ne Tai

Do you feel sufficient action is being taken to deal with sexism in your organisation?

Ne Tai

Do you feel sufficient action is being taken to deal with sexual harassment in your organisation?

Ne Tai

Does your manager make sure the originator of any idea receives credit?

Ne Tai

Does your manager make sure that staff are treated equally in meetings, for example by not being disproportionately interrupted?

Ne Tai

Do you know how to contact your human resources representative in the event of a problem?

Ne Tai

Do you know how to access a confidential counsellor in the event of a problem?

 Ne Tai

Do you feel secure and respected in your place of work?

 Ne Tai

If you answered 'yes' more than 12 times

Your organisation has taken action to overcome sexism and sexual harassment. Well done! Do you want to improve even more? Browse our 'Act' files to find a benchmark of good practices in organisations.

If you answered 'yes' between 6 and 11 times

Your organisation has started to work on the subject and can still make progress.

If you answered 'yes' less than six times

Now is the time to act to improve the quality of your work context and take steps to avoid any risk. This can be employee well-being, legal exposure or your reputation as an employer. Read the 'Understand' and 'Act' sections point by point to help you change your organisational culture.