Validation

- Yes

Additional information: Guidelines in circular COL 3/2006 about registering data concerning partner violence. Standardized police form for registering data of partner violence. Guidelines in circulars for registering data about sexual violence.

Compilation

Data compiled from General national database, to which all information from local police districts are sent.

Quality assurance process

- Yes

Brief description: The data are registered in a uniform way, by standardized registration systems. Service for police information watches over quality of data in database. A section of this service is responsible for working out a control system to guarantee quality of data.

Accuracy

No information. Results are based on facts registered with the police, they potentially suffer from dark number.

Reliability

Good. Guidelines in circulars should provide sufficient reliability (e.g. COL 3/2006). In practice, there may be small differences in registration practice between police districts.

Timeliness

Good. The data are reported very soon, annually. The data are registered ongoing. Therefore, timeliness is considered to be good. The product also discusses the evolution of crime over time (ten years)
