

White Ribbon Campaign

Krum Garkov

European Union,
Executive Director of eu-LISA, European Agency for the Operational Management of Large-scale IT Systems

We can never call ourselves a developed society whilst violence against women exists among us. Our values and beliefs are being compromised not only by committing violence but also by supporting it or doing nothing about it. The only thing necessary for damage to be done is silent consent from “good” men. Therefore, it is important for everyone to speak-up against gender based violence.