

White Ribbon Campaign

Timo Soini

Finland, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Finland

There are many ways, big and small, to work towards equality. My contribution is to join EIGE's White Ribbon campaign for men who work to counter violence against women. I am committed to speaking about it in Finland and abroad, in schools and workplaces, during election campaigns, at international meetings, the United Nations, the European Union and beyond. I support the [Finnish] Martha Organisation in their work towards eradicating violence against women. On 24 November, I will wear a white ribbon as a sign of my participation in the campaign.
