

White Ribbon Campaign

Christoph Strässer

Germany, Member of the German Parliament

“

Gender equality is a fundamental human right which is far from being achieved. One out of three women have suffered any form of violence. We must fight to stop these crimes that destroy lives and families. Therefore, we urgently need to raise awareness to create a more equal society. This is why I join the White Ribbon Campaign.

”