

White Ribbon Campaign

László Székely

Hungary, Commissioner for Fundamental Rights of Hungary

“

Those who fail to take firm action to counter violence against women, through their omission defy the very ideal of universal and fundamental rights equally vested in women and men. The articulation of the inadmissibility of violence against women derives directly from the protection of human rights. I am happy to join this campaign as an Ombudsman, as a man and a father, too.

”