

Manual with instructions on media reporting on violence against women

A Manual with Instructions on media reporting on violence against women was published by the Ministry. It was aimed towards the journalists and all the other persons responsible for the creation, publication and broadcasting of media content related to violence in the family. It warns on possible consequences of different ways of media reporting about violence in the family. Instructions are provided to reporters on how to deal with cases of domestic violence.

Weblinks

Website

Aims and objectives

- To improve the coverage of domestic violence in the media

Results and impact

Instructions on media reporting in the cases of domestic violence have been provided to the journalists as a contribution towards the establishment of higher professional standards while reporting on these cases. The manual was printed and distributed to 2000 individuals and organisations.

Creator/owner/responsible institution

Stakeholder, Firstname: Stjepan

Stakeholder, Family name: Adanić

Additional information

Subtype: Manuals and handbooks on gender issues

Nuts code: HR

Metadata

ONGOING: No

TYPE: Handbook / Manual

COVERAGE: National

TARGET GROUP: Media professionals, Media company managers

KEYWORDS: media
professionals , journalism, codes of conduct, images of women, representation, gender-sensitive language