

Awareness-raising campaigns, organising conferences and events

---

The competition for Non Governmental Organisations accepts submissions (reports, analysis, expert papers, training manuals) on the theme. The awareness-raising campaign consists of two competitions: one for Non Governmental Organisations and one for journalists. In the competition for journalists, best materials on dealing with discrimination and challenging stereotypes are awarded in three categories: press, radio and TV. The follow-up to the competitions will be a thematic conference for about 100 participants.

---

Weblinks

Website

Aims and objectives

- To identify and award good practices of promoting non-discrimination and diversity in the media.

---

Results and impact

Not yet available

---

Creator/owner/responsible institution

Government Plenipotentiary for Equal Treatment

Stakeholder, Firstname: Barbara

Stakeholder, Family name: Szymborska

---

Additional information

Subtype: Conferences and events presenting good practices, research findings and data on Women and the Media

Nuts code: PL

---

Metadata

ONGOING: No

TYPE: Awareness-raising campaigns/events

COVERAGE: National

TARGET GROUP: Media professionals, NGO members

KEYWORDS: media professionals, journalism, press, radio, television, balanced participation, dissemination of information, women's participation, awareness-raising initiatives