

Women in management within the Danish Broadcasting Corporation

The article describes how DR in 2008 signed a charter offered to most companies and organizations nationwide, committing them to implement practical measure to promote gender equality within their organization

Key information on EU or National policies/legislation on women's' representation on the Media:

Danmarks Radio, the largest public service broadcaster in Denmark, has signed a contract with the Ministry for Gender Equality, committing to reaching a 50/50 share of men and women in leading positions

Key information on trends and challenges on women and the media:

Equality in the leading roles within media is a particular challenge in Denmark, but there is a governmental and organizational willingness to make widespread, organized attempts to solve the disparity.

Key stakeholders mentioned:

Denmark's Radio, Ministry for Gender Equality and Ecclesiastical Affairs

Weblinks

Website

Metadata

TYPE: Publication

CONTRIBUTOR: Danmarks Radio

PUBLISHER: DR.dk

RIGHTS: © DR

LANGUAGE: Danish

COVERAGE: Denmark

KEYWORDS: private media, balanced participation