
Government Resolution No. 1095/2010 (IV. 21.) First Action Plan of the National Strategy for the Promotion of Gender Equality (2010-2011)

The first Action Plan of the National Strategy for the Promotion of Gender Equality designates the main measures to implement in the first two-year period (2010-2011). These measures focus on the issues of employment, work-life balance, family benefit and leave system, child care services, women's and men's health, women in research and development, violence against women and the related services, legislation, policies, and professional protocols. It also defines measures in the area of fight against human trafficking, non-stereotypical education, and gender training for public administration officials. The Action Plan defines the measures and assigns the governmental body responsible for their implementation, the resources if applicable and the deadlines.
