

Gender Mainstreaming in Practice: A Handbook

The handbook provides 10 steps to integrating gender into the policy-making process, such as setting the agenda, mapping the situation, evaluation, monitoring and communication. It also discusses a sectoral approach to gender mainstreaming in the following sectors:

- macroeconomics and trade;
- governance and participation;
- labour;
- education;
- health;
- poverty;
- justice and human rights;
- science, research and ICT;
- mass media;
- environment and sustainable development;
- defence, peace-building and post-conflict solutions.

Among other features the handbook explicitly guides through the tools of gender analysis and presents a glossary of key terms and concepts for gender mainstreaming.

Weblinks

en

Metadata

TYPE: Handbook / Manual

CREATOR/AUTHOR: UNDP Regional Centre for Europe and the CIS (UNDP RBEC)

CONTRIBUTOR: Astrida Niemanis

IDENTIFIER: ISBN: 92-95042-22-0

RIGHTS: No copyright attached: source must be acknowledged

LANGUAGE: English

SECTOR: Economic and financial Environment and climate
Culture, affairs , Education, Employment, change , Health,
Justice, Digital agenda

FORMAT: PDF file

KEYWORDS: social culture, media, sports, development, economy, education, research, employment, affairs , environment, transport, gender mainstreaming, health, justice, rights, audio-visual, climate action, culture, training, monetary
youth, development, cooperation, economic, affairs , environment, external relations, information technology, public health, trade