

Soft femininity. Analysis of women politicians media presentation [WT]

The publication results from the project “Slovak parliamentary elections 2006 – gender views” carried out by the Feminist publishing and educational project ASPEKT and financially supported by the Slovak–Czech Women’s Fund. The aim of the project was to point to the ways, in which women in politics are symbollocally used and misused, furthermore to explore the processes, by which women’s position in political parties, the political system and journalist practices are undermined.
