

IncludeGender.org

Includegender.org is a unique Swedish cooperative venture on the part of the is a unique Swedish cooperative venture involving the European Social Fund, the Swedish Secretariat for Gender Research, the County Administrative Board, the Swedish Association of Local Authorities and Regions (SALAR) and the Swedish Governmental Agency for Innovation Systems (VINNOVA). The portal was launched on 1 December 2009. Includegender.org gives you tools for the everyday work of gender mainstreaming. In this portal you can find, for example: The Jämnda database, a new tool, which can be searched for research findings, public inquiries and other written sources concerning gender mainstreaming; The Toolbox, which contains methods, models and interactive tools that simplify, and provide quality assurance for, gender mainstreaming; The function that exhaustively eliminates any questions one might have about gender mainstreaming; reports from activities, lists of important years and a great deal else. The Swedish version of the web portal lists different methods, models and tools dived into; “The complete process” ie comprehensive approaches to set up a GM process; Checklists; Preparations; Surveys; Analysis; Monitoring and evaluations; Steering and management; Personnel and organisation and; Exercises.

Weblinks

en

Metadata

TYPE: Database, Evaluation / Monitoring, Good practice (collected), Handbook / Manual, Policy / Legislation, Other

CREATOR/AUTHOR: IncludeGender.org

LANGUAGE: English, Swedish

SECTOR: Employment, Justice

FORMAT: Website

KEYWORDS: employment, freedom, gender equality, gender mainstreaming, human rights, justice, rights, security, social affairs