Activities

In relation to men and masculinities, it aims

- to prevent violent behaviour among the male population of Barcelona in relation to the family;
- to question the hegemonic model of masculinity, and display the negative consequences for women, girls and boys and men themselves;
- to construct jointly and disseminate alternative models of masculinity and diversity to allow equality between men and women.

To this end, it carries out: men and gender equality awareness raising and training (young people, schools, adults); Support and awareness-raising programme for men who will become fathers (PASSIR), information, advice and support on domestic violence, group or individual psychological help
