

Sneak peek into the in-depth study results: Investing in gender capacity

The final report of EIGE's in-depth research on gender training is due in the beginning of 2014. The researchers are working hard to analyse the data collected while exploring the good practices in Sweden, Greece, Germany, Austria and Finland.

Herewith we offer you a sneak peek into the final results of the study. It very much looks like one needs to move in the direction of strengthening the commitment at all levels for developing gender capacity of civil servants if one wishes to see the success of gender mainstreaming.
