

Grey literature on justice

The screenshot shows a webpage with an orange header containing the EIGE logo and the title 'Grey literature on justice'. Below the header, there are several text blocks. The first block explains what grey literature is and where it can be found. The second block, titled 'The relevance of gender in justice', states that gender equality in the justice field is a fundamental human right. The third block, 'Grey literature in EIGE's library', describes the collection's focus on good practices, gender indicators, and anti-discrimination policies. A fourth block, 'Anti-discrimination policies', provides more detail on the library's resources. On the right side, there is a photograph of a gavel and a document labeled 'GENDER DISCRIMINATION'. A 'Reading list' box is also visible, listing specific reports and documents.

It is essential that there is gender equality in the justice field. Access to justice is a fundamental human right and an integral aspect of the rule of law.
