Question 1:

Please explain what the difference between Turnover (sales revenue realized from the day-to-day operations of the entity) and Turnover in the field of the call for tenders, in Annex 3.8?

Answer 1:

Turnover (sales revenue realized from the day-to-day operations of the entity) should be understood as income that an entity receives from its all business activities.

Turnover in the field of the call for tenders should be understood as income which is generated only from business activities referred to in the tender specifications, i.e. provision of medical services.
