EIGE/2016/OPER/01 Questions & Answers Nr 2

Question 1:

What does it mean “run & verify update” (reference: pg. 17, List of sources): are we verifying only the data pertaining to gender issues? We need to understand the scale of this action.

Answer 1:

Eurostat is one of the main sources of statistics information for EIGE’s gender statistics database which needs to be monitored on a regular basis what refers new statistics data and metadata releases.

The contractor is expected to consider data and metadata relevant from the gender perspective, being it included in the database or not yet.

Question 2:

We noted that some of the databases are very large, including data that is not related to gender. However, if we update gender specific information, it is possible that such amendments have ramifications for the wider data that appears in other parts of the data base - would this be our responsibility as well?

Answer 2:

Under Lot 1 – Maintenance, development and updating of statistical data and metadata of EIGE’s gender statistics database; monitoring of its usability and relevance; and the production of reports upon request to support the dissemination process, the contractor is expected to ensure the management of the gender statistics framework over all its six entry points. The due maintenance and updating process entails with ensuring consistency of all the information to display in the database.
