

Gender equality in focus

How can improving data collection on intimate partner violence help victims?

Data from the police and justice sectors are a valuable source of information on violence against women. They can help Member States check if their actions to prevent violence, protect victims and punish perpetrators are working or if they need improving. Watch our video here to learn more about EIGE's latest work to improve data collection on intimate partner violence.

Latest news

Reported cases of violence against women reveal only the tip of the iceberg

One in five women in the EU has been physically or sexually abused by an intimate partner. Many of these cases are not reported and victims remain unprotected. Reliable data helps to design more effective responses to prevent violence against women and protect victims in the future. EIGE has developed recommendations for each Member State to improve data collection processes by their police and justice sectors. Read more here.

Help us improve!

We are updating our Gender Statistics Database! This hub of statistical information on gender equality is an interactive and easy-to-use tool. Help us improve it so it can become an even more useful tool for you. Take our quick online survey here.

EIGE hands over the chair of the JHA agencies network

The Justice and Home Affairs (JHA) agencies each work in the areas of freedom, security and justice. This year, EIGE has chaired the network and put the topic of digitalisation and its different effects on women and men under the spotlight. In 2019, it will be EUROPOL's turn to lead the network and continue creating synergies. Learn more about the JHA agencies network here.

Orange the world!

To mark the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women, EIGE took part in the awareness-raising campaign, Orange the World. Europe House, the President's Palace, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the French embassy in Vilnius, as well as the European Commission in Brussels and other emblematic buildings around the world were lit in orange as a sign of solidarity to end violence against women. Learn more about our campaign here.

New publications

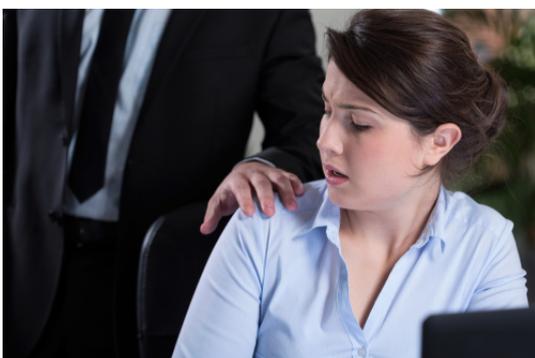

Country factsheets on female genital mutilation now online

EIGE recently estimated the number of girls at risk of female genital mutilation in six EU countries: Belgium, Cyprus, France, Greece, Italy and Malta. Our factsheets give a snapshot of the situation in each country and provide practical recommendations for Member States to combat this crime. Learn more about our work on the topic here.

Good to know

How common is sexual harassment?

Half of all women in the EU have experienced sexual harassment. However, only 24 % of women and 17 % of men think sexual harassment against women is common in their own country. Find out more gender-based violence facts in our Gender Statistics Database.

Let's talk gender!

November definition: judicial stereotyping

This refers to the practice of judges assigning specific roles, attributes or characteristics on the sole basis of the individual's membership of a particular social group. Find the complete definition and more in our Glossary and Thesaurus.

Jobs

Stakeholder relations officer

Are you passionate about building relationships and gender equality policies? Do you have strong interpersonal skills? If so, this position could be for you! Make sure to submit your application before 5 December 2018, 13:00 EET. More details

Seconded national expert (SNE) – research and statistics

Are you experienced in using and producing statistics? If you are a wizz in preparing and implementing research projects and have solid knowledge about gender equality, we might have a place for you. This position is open to people working in the public sector. Submit your application before 20 January 2019, 13:30 EET. More details

Seconded national expert (SNE) – gender mainstreaming

If you have in-depth knowledge of gender mainstreaming and gender budgeting and you are experienced in research, this might be the job for you. This position is open to people working in the public sector. Don't miss the opportunity and apply by 20 January 2019, 13:30 EET. More details

Did you get this newsletter from a friend? Get the next one directly to your inbox!

Subscribe here

This newsletter was sent to you by European Institute for Gender Equality.

If you wish to stop receiving it, you can write to communications@eige.europa.eu or Unsubscribe

Copyright info:

2nd image from the top: Lmspencer/Shutterstock.com; 3rd image from the top: Andrey_Kuzmin/Shutterstock.com; 4th image from the top: pituktv/shutterstock.com; 6th image from the top: Africastudio/Shutterstock.com; 7th image from the top: Photographee.eu/Shutterstock.com; 8th image from the top: PossawatSepa/Shutterstock.com; 9th image from the top: GonzaloAragon/Shutterstock.com; 10th image from the top: wavebreakmedia/Shutterstock.com; 11th image from the top: GustavoFrazao/Shutterstock.com.

For more information please visit www.eige.europa.eu, contact us via email eige.sec@eige.europa.eu or phone +370 5 215 7400.